

The Princess Bride

US | 1987 | PG | 1h 38

Director: Rob Reiner

This is a kissing movie. Don't let your Grandpa tell you differently. And it's just as good as a nice MLT.

Movie Facts:

- Based on the book of the same name by William Goldman.
- Wallace Shawn (Vizzini) was convinced he was wrong for the role and in danger of being fired at any moment. He was extremely nervous throughout filming and co-star Cary Elwes (Westley) noted that he was visibly sweating during the 'battle of wits' scene.
- François Truffaut, Robert Redford, Norman Jewison and Richard Lester had all made abortive attempts at filming "The Princess Bride"

Next Month's Discussion:

White Christmas

Welcome to Movie Club with Adam and Nicole! We created this guide to let everyone know our talking points ahead of time. We may get to all of these, or we may not. This is just to get thoughts circulating ahead of time. We can't wait to hear what everyone has to say!

Talking Points:

- What do you think is the best part of this movie? What part is the worst?
- Which character is the hero of the story?
- When Westley and Buttercup reunite, is Westley really angry with her? Or is he testing/teasing her?
- Why do you think Prince Humperdinck continues to pursue Westley and Buttercup?
- Despite all of the genres called out by The Grandfather, this is a love story, but is there only one love story?
